

FREE MOBILE WEB APP – LIFE PATH REPORT
March 24, 2011

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

I have been doing astrology for going on fifty years. Like all astrologers I have a couple of specialty areas where I have done my most work. Vocational guidance is one of them. Partner compatibility is another. Perhaps because my own life path has been so circuitous I have learned something about pointing out to clients where their passion might be. Without passion work is a hard go.

I have written what I consider a very useful vocational report called the Life-Path Report. The full report is available here:

<http://www.astrologyland.com/>

But we also put together a Life-Path mini-report that is free and available on both the iPhone and Android phones. It probably works on any cell phone that accesses the Internet.

This makes three Web-Apps that you will find on the menu for your iPhones and Androids.

Anyway, cell phone users can just go to the above link and the mobile app should automatically appear. Or you can just go to Check it out.
